Summer's Rudest Guest – the Common Cold

By STEFANIE BROOKE
Tangi Times Community Journalist

Nothing says “summer fun” quite like sunburned shoulders, melted popsicles... and an untimely case of the sniffles. If you’ve ever found yourself curled up on the couch in July with a box of tissues, a scratchy throat, and a deep sense of betrayal — you’re not alone.

Most people think colds are strictly winter business, but viruses don’t check the calendar. Summer colds are real — and sometimes they feel even worse because nobody expects them. Here’s the scoop: the average adult catches about two to three colds per year, and kids rack up even more — six to ten on average. While most colds hit during the classic cold and flu season between September and April, about 10 to 15 percent of colds still pop up during the summer months.

One big culprit? Air conditioning. We shuffle between sticky, swampy heat outside and chilly indoor temps inside, which can dry out nasal passages and make it easier for viruses to set up camp. Crowded places don’t help either — think summer camps, family reunions, airports, and packed movie theaters full of people escaping the heat. Add in a bit of travel stress and a few late nights chasing lightning bugs or catching fireworks, and your immune system might just wave a little white flag.

Summer colds often start like their winter cousins: scratchy throat, runny nose, sneezing, mild fever, and maybe a cough.

Some folks mix in a stomach bug just for fun — so if your picnic plans suddenly include saltine crackers and ginger ale, you’ve met the other summer surprise: a mild viral stomach bug. Most of the time, these bugs don’t need much more than rest, fluids, and permission to watch your favorite shows all day. Old-school home remedies still hold up — chicken soup for comfort, honey and warm tea for a scratchy throat, popsicles to soothe that “burning desert” feeling in your mouth, and a steamy shower to loosen up stubborn congestion. And remember that your body is fighting hard, so you also need plenty of water and fresh air.

So the next time your summer vacation turns into a couch staycation, don’t panic. About one in ten colds might hit you in the middle of summer — but luckily, they usually don’t last long. Grab a blanket, sip something warm (or icy), and remember: even germs need a vacation spot now and then. Here’s hoping yours pack up and leave soon — so you can get back to popsicles for fun, not for survival.

Help Your Body Help Itself

By STEFANIE BROOKE • Tangi Times Community Journalist

Ever feel puffy, sluggish, or like you’re carrying around a gallon more water than you actually drank? You might have heard whispers — or TikToks — about lymphatic drainage. Before you shrug it off as just another wellness trend, hear me out: this one’s got real roots, both historical and biological.

So, what is it exactly? Your lymphatic system is your body’s unsung sanitation crew. It’s a vast network of vessels and nodes that help flush out waste, toxins, and excess fluids. Think of it as your body’s natural drainpipe — only, unlike your kitchen sink, this one needs a little help to keep things flowing. When it slows down, you might feel bloated, swollen, or just generally bogged down.

The idea of manually helping the lymph system isn’t new. The modern concept of lymphatic drainage massage started in the 1930s, when a Danish couple, Emil and Estrid Vodder, noticed their patients’ swollen lymph nodes could be relieved with gentle, rhythmic massage. Fast forward almost a century, and aestheticians, physical therapists, and influencers alike are all on the drainage train.

Why do people do it? Lymphatic drainage is said to reduce puffiness, ease water retention, boost circulation, and support the immune system. Some folks swear by it for post-surgery swelling, sinus congestion, or just to feel lighter on a Monday morning.

Who benefits? Anyone who feels chronically puffy, folks recovering from certain surgeries, or people dealing with conditions like lymphedema (though medical supervision is a must there). Even if you’re generally healthy, it’s a gentle nudge for your body’s natural detox system.

The good news? You don’t have to shell out big bucks for a fancy spa treatment. You can get started right at home by dry brushing your skin before a shower with a soft brush, sweeping in long strokes toward your heart to encourage flow.

Add a bit of self-massage by gently stroking your neck, collarbones, and underarms with light pressure — think petting a sleepy cat, not kneading bread dough.

And don’t forget the basics: drink plenty of water and keep your body moving. A simple walk around the block, a good stretch, or even deep belly breathing can help your lymph system do what it does best.

Is it a magic fix for all your problems? No. But a little lymph love might help you feel lighter on your feet, clearer in your head, and a tad less swampy — and that’s worth a few gentle strokes, if you ask me.

PERSONAL SAFETY

If you are being approached by a stranger or someone creepy, yell out into the crowd,
“Hey Dad, I’m over here!”
or “Babe, do you want a coffee?”
or
“Brian, are you ready to go?”
Make up anything to let that person know that you are not alone.

Matthew Mire, the man behind a deadly 2021 crime spree across three Louisiana parishes, has been sentenced to two life terms plus 348 years and is headed to Angola prison. Sentencing was finalized in Livingston Parish on July 21, where 152 years of his sentence stem from crimes committed there. Mire's rampage included breaking into a home and stealing a vehicle before traveling to Ascension Parish, where he fatally shot Pamela Adair and wounded her boyfriend. He later killed State Trooper Adam Gaubert, who was ambushed in his patrol car. Captured in East Baton Rouge Parish, Mire accepted a plea deal to avoid trial and the death penalty, and he is barred from appeals or post-conviction relief, according to District Attorney Ricky Babin.

There will be a full road closure on LA 1054 located 915 ft. south of Cut Off Rd. (or 0.5 miles north of LA 38) beginning at 6:00AM on Monday, July 28, 2025, through Wednesday, August 6, 2025, at 7PM, weather permitting, while crews replace a cross drain.

Motorists traveling LA 1054 east may take LA 1054 west to US 51, then south to LA 38, then east to re-intersect LA 1054. Motorists traveling LA 1054 west may take LA 38 west to US 51, then north to re-intersect LA 1054.

City Court of Hammond Judge C. Britain Sledge, III, and City Court Administrator Dr. Tony Licciardi were honored as this year's winner of a national technology integration award from the National Center for State Courts and the National Association for Court Management. City Court is being recognized nationally for the implementation of Licciardi's The Fair Pay App, which helps the court to work with defendants and ensures an objective calculation to determine a defendant's ability to pay fines and court costs.

GREENSBURG - 21st Judicial District Attorney Scott Perrilloux reports that on June 20, 2025, these defendants appeared before Judge Brian Abels and entered the following pleas:

Patrick Gautier, 37, pleaded no contest to theft and was sentenced to serve five years in the Department of Corrections. Sentencing was suspended and the defendant was placed on active probation for three years, ordered to pay a fine of $750 plus court costs, and be subject to drug testing.

LaFreddie Crier, 33, pleaded no contest to possession of Schedule II and was sentenced to serve two years in DOC. Sentencing was suspended and the defendant was placed two years' probation, ordered to pay a fine of $500 plus court costs, and be subject to drug testing.

POS Christopher Lee Johnson

Christopher Lee Johnson, 41, of Satsuma, was found guilty of video voyeurism on July 10, 2025, in Livingston Parish.

In August 2022, LPSO investigators were contacted by one of the victims, who discovered a memory card containing more than 300 videos from a hidden camera located inside a bathroom. LPSO identified two victims from the videos and arrested Johnson on August 12, 2022. Detectives seized his mobile phone and located an app that was used to hide photos and videos, where they found a trove of digital images that led to the identification of four additional victims, including one juvenile.

Johnson was tried on July 7, 2025, and the jury of eight men and four women deliberated for just under two hours before finding the defendant guilty as charged on all six counts. Judge Erika Sledge presided over the case and set sentencing for August 5.

Underage Sales Enforcement
Nets Arrest, Citations

From TPSO

AMITE (July 23, 2025) - Thanks to the support of a Louisiana Highway Safety Commission (LHSC) grant, 14 business clerks were cited, and one was arrested during a series of operations to uncover and address underage tobacco and alcohol sales and use.

Throughout the month of June, Tangipahoa Parish Sheriff's Office (TPSO) deputies, from all divisions, were assigned an additional shift focused solely on identifying businesses, their employees, and customers engaged in unlawful sales of alcohol and tobacco in an effort to reduce underage substance abuse. During the operation, more than 50 retail alcoholic beverage and tobacco establishments were visited, where 14 individuals were cited for unlawful sale, purchase, or possession of tobacco, alternative nicotine products or vapor products.

After refusing to provide identification to deputies, Sahil Wod, 20, of Jackson, MS, who was an employee of The Discount Store located on Highway 51 in Independence, was placed under arrest for Possession/Sale of Tobacco By/To Persons under 18.

Sheriff Gerald Sticker wants to commend all of the employees who follow sales laws on a daily basis, as well as the business owners who hold their employees to the standards not only set by the law, but the expectations set by our community.

The TPSO is grateful for the opportunity to conduct this operation, which was made possible through the Juvenile Underage Drinking Enforcement (JUDE) grant coordinated and funded by the LHSC in partnership with the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

Louis A. Fajoni was born in Palermo, Sicily, October 9, 1894. He left Palermo at 9 years old on September 23, 1903, on a vessel "Manilla," coming to the United States, traveling with his father Peter, mother Jane and younger sister Antonia, who was 2. The trip took 20 days, and they settled in Amite City, Louisiana.

Louis began photographing many community and family events. In the 1920s and 1930s, he took numerous photos of school classes all over Tangipahoa Parish, as well as key events, including an Amite visit by Governor Huey P. Long.

He continued taking pictures for the Amite high school yearbook until 1971. Louis Fajoni recorded our history in the darkroom of his studio – the special moments of our lives developed with his fine focus. He did this painstakingly and patiently, leaving us with thousands of images. A collection of his images is on exhibition at the Amite Library until the first week of August. You will be invited to share what you remember about the people and places. This information will be added to the collection. The photos presented came from the archives at the Center for Southeast Louisiana Studies at Southeastern and from private collections.

If you have any Fajoni photographs, we would like to add copies to this collection. Please contact Dennis Stevens, dstev67@eatel.net, 225-436-6585

On July 15, 2025, Hammond Police conducted a traffic stop that led to the arrest of three men, all identified as members of the local gang "Most Turnt Youngins" (MTY). Passenger Brennon Thompson, 18, of Hammond, was found to have multiple felony warrants, and was arrested along with Dejon Warner, 24, and Jacorey Brumfield, 23, who were both on parole for prior weapon charges. A search of the vehicle uncovered a loaded Anderson Manufacturing assault pistol, a stolen Glock 19 handgun, suspected marijuana, a digital scale, and a camouflage backpack. All three were booked into Hammond City Jail.

Hammond native and world-renowned BMX Flatland athlete Terry Adams is returning home for the premiere of his new documentary The Road Home on Saturday, September 20, in Downtown Hammond, where the $15 ticketed event includes a red carpet screening at the Columbia Theatre followed by a Q&A and an after party at Gnarly Barley Brewing; the day also features a free Flatland Jam at Zemurray Park Skate Area from 11 AM to 4 PM with pro riders, a live DJ, giveaways, and family fun – all part of a celebration honoring Adams' global BMX career and hometown roots. Tickets are available now at www.downtownhammondla.com/theroadhome.

Daniel Callihan, the man indicted in the brutal murders of a Loranger mother and her daughter, may not face trial next week as scheduled, as federal prosecutors are expected to file a motion to delay the trial originally set for Monday, July 28 – a move the defense plans to oppose, according to court records. Judge Lance Affrick, who is presiding over the case, is expected to rule on the matter this week. Callihan faces multiple federal and state charges, including kidnapping resulting in death, transporting minors across state lines, and first-degree murder, with potential penalties ranging from 10 years to life imprisonment or death. His alleged accomplice, Victoria Cox, remains jailed in Mississippi, awaiting a December trial on related charges.

Livingston Parish has been awarded $476,423 through the Federal Emergency Management Agency's Hazard Mitigation Grant Program to install nine weather stations as part of an Early Warning System Project aimed at improving storm preparedness; the stations, which will track real-time data such as rainfall and windspeed, will be located at schools and key sites including Live Oak High, Walker High, Juban Parc Junior High, Frost Elementary, Maurepas High, Albany High, Springfield High, LIGO Livingston, and Livingston Fire Station District 11, with Parish Homeland Security Director Chris Anderson noting the system will enhance the accuracy and speed of emergency updates and help monitor weather for school events like football games.

The I-55 Southbound right/outside shoulder will have a moving operation from US 51 Overpass (Exit 23) to the Laplace Exit (Exit 1) beginning at 6am through 7pm, daily, on Saturday, July 26, 2025, weather permitting, for tree trimming operations. Both lanes will remain open to traffic in each direction. Motorists may use the US 51 Service Rd. (Low Rd.) to avoid the work zone.

On July 22, 2025, the Hammond Police Department's Criminal Investigations Division conducted underage alcohol compliance checks at 19 gas stations and alcohol outlets as part of the Juvenile Underage Drinking Enforcement (JUDE) initiative, funded by the Louisiana Highway Safety Commission; only two establishments were found in violation and cited for selling alcohol to individuals under 21, while the majority were in compliance with local and state laws.

The Florida Parishes Juvenile Justice Commission will hold a public hearing on Monday, August 11, 2025, at 4:30pm at the Florida Parishes Juvenile Detention Center in Covington to consider levying additional or increased millage rates without further voter approval, or adopting adjusted millage rates after reassessment and rolling forward to rates not exceeding the prior year's maximum, in accordance with Article 7, Section 23(C) of the Louisiana Constitution and R.S. 47:1705(B).

The Louisiana Department of Children & Family Services (DCFS) is actively hiring more than 50 Child Protective Services (CPS) Investigators across the state to staff a newly established Second Shift, designed to increase the agency's capacity to respond to reports of child abuse and neglect during evenings, weekends, and holidays. This initiative reflects a growing recognition that child welfare emergencies can occur at any time and require immediate response beyond traditional business hours. The Second Shift offers a 10-hour, 4-day workweek from 1:30 p.m. to midnight, alternating weekends off, and full state benefits including health insurance, retirement, and paid leave. It also provides comprehensive training, ongoing mentorship, and a clear path for career advancement, making it a strong fit for both recent graduates and experienced professionals looking to enter or grow in the field of child welfare. CPS Investigators in this role will partner with law enforcement, educators, and medical professionals to assess child safety and intervene when necessary, ensuring vulnerable children receive timely protection. DCFS Secretary-Designee Rebecca Harris emphasized that this added coverage not only improves the department's ability to respond effectively but also supports better work-life balance for staff, ultimately strengthening the overall child welfare system in Louisiana.

The Columbia Theatre for the Performing Arts and Southeastern Louisiana University are continuing their annual back-to-school tradition with a screening of Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets on August 22 at 7pm at the Columbia Theatre in downtown Hammond. The event includes free popcorn and a Harry Potter swag bag with each ticket, and attendees are encouraged to come in costume for a chance at a surprise. With themed photo ops and costumed characters expected in the lobby, this year's celebration promises to be even bigger than before. Tickets are $20 and available now at www.columbiatheatre.org or by calling 985-549-2787.

Nurse Practitioner Jenna Anzalone Morgan Joins North Oaks From North Oaks

Nurse Practitioner Jenna Anzalone Morgan, MSN, APRN, FNP-C, has joined the team of providers at North Oaks Primary Care in Hammond, a clinic of North Oaks Health System. She is now accepting new patients, ages 12 and up. To schedule an appointment, call (985) 230-APPT [2778].

Anzalone Morgan began her professional career in the Emergency Department at North Oaks Medical Center, where she worked for five years as a registered nurse providing specialized triage and emergency nursing care to critically ill patients.

“North Oaks has always felt like home to me – a place where I’ve found purpose, support and a deep connection to the community I serve,” Anzalone Morgan states. “Over the years, providing hands-on care deepened my passion for nursing and inspired me to pursue a career as a family nurse practitioner.”

“I was drawn to family practice because it allows me to care for individuals at every stage of life and form meaningful, ongoing relationships with patients,” she continues. “My approach to patient care focuses on creating an open, honest space where patients feel comfortable discussing their overall health, understanding how I can support them as their provider, and collaborating with them to achieve positive health outcomes.”

Anzalone Morgan specializes in comprehensive care for families, from preventive screenings and annual checkups to treating illnesses and managing chronic health conditions.

“Several years of emergency nursing prepared me for recognizing the level of care a patient may need,” Anzalone Morgan shares. “As a primary care provider, I am most passionate about providing acute care for minor injuries and illnesses, chronic disease management and preventative care.”

Anzalone Morgan earned her bachelor’s degree in nursing from Southeastern Louisiana University in Hammond and her master’s degree in nursing from the University of South Alabama in Mobile. She is certified as a family nurse practitioner by the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners.

Nurse practitioners are nationally certified, state-licensed medical professionals who can practice independently, working in close collaboration with their supervising physician.

Other primary care providers at this location include Drs. Gayle H. Beyl and Herbert G. Robinson III; and fellow nurse practitioners Jennifer Dubuc, APRN, FNP, Kelsey St. Arnaud, FNP-C, Polly Burrall, APRN, FNP, and Shay Morgan, APRN, FNP-C.

North Oaks Primary Care in Hammond is located in Suite 201 of the North Oaks Clinic Building at 15813 Paul Vega, MD, Drive on the North Oaks Medical Center campus. Clinic hours of operation are 8am to 5pm on weekdays.

oversight of all academic units and programs, as well as library, grants, research, eLearning, the Center for Teaching and Learning, the Office of Planning, analytics and compliance, centers and institutes, Beaufort College Honors, and two branch campuses. He also oversaw strategic planning in alignment with the USCB academic master plan, leading to significant increases in student experiential learning, community engagement, sponsored funding, student and faculty accolades, and institutional/program rankings.

“My leadership philosophy centers on empowering faculty and staff to generate bold ideas and pursue use-inspired research, positioning the university for sustained impact and long-term success,” he said. “Universities must be intensely collaborative, fostering innovation while maintaining academic excellence.”

A professor of Spanish literature, Skipper is the author of numerous articles and presentations related to higher education, leadership roles and his academic discipline. He holds a doctorate from Florida State University and an undergraduate degree from the Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta.

Southeastern Names G. Eric Skipper VP and Provost From Southeastern

Southeastern Louisiana University's new Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs is G. Eric Skipper, the university recently announced. His appointment follows a nationwide search and has been approved by the University of Louisiana System Board of Supervisors.

In his new position, Skipper will serve as the chief academic officer of the university, overseeing all academic departments, enrollment services, Sims Memorial Library and various other divisions on campus. He will participate in formulating and administering the university's policies and in developing long-range goals and objectives, as well as ensuring the academic integrity and accreditation of all programs.

“Dr. Skipper joins us with a wealth of experience in higher education,” said Southeastern President William S. Wainwright. “His experience builds on previous academic roles, including nine years as provost and executive vice chancellor of academic affairs at the University of South Carolina Beaufort, dean of graduate studies at UNG, and as president of the Georgia Council of Graduate Schools.”

In his last role at USCB, Skipper had administrative oversight of all academic units and programs, as well as library, grants, research, eLearning, the Center for Teaching and Learning, the Office of Planning, analytics and compliance, centers and institutes, Beaufort College Honors, and two branch campuses. He also oversaw strategic planning in alignment with the USCB academic master plan, leading to significant increases in student experiential learning, community engagement, sponsored funding, student and faculty accolades, and institutional/program rankings.

“My leadership philosophy centers on empowering faculty and staff to generate bold ideas and pursue use-inspired research, positioning the university for sustained impact and long-term success,” he said. “Universities must be intensely collaborative, fostering innovation while maintaining academic excellence.”

A professor of Spanish literature, Skipper is the author of numerous articles and presentations related to higher education, leadership roles and his academic discipline. He holds a doctorate from Florida State University and an undergraduate degree from the Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta.

West Nile Virus Detected in 22 Samples Last Week

WNV Risk Map July 18, 2025

West Nile Virus (WNV) Risk values are calculated based on methodology designed by the CDC. Areas are assigned a value of 0-5 with 0 being lowest risk and 5 being well above average risk. The risk is calculated based on factors to include, Mosquito counts, disease positive mosquitoes found, and other environmental factors.

Environmental factors are playing a pivotal role in the increased mosquito population that you may be seeing. Of the 883 samples tested thus far in 2025, 18 have returned positive for WNV.

Environmental factors can play an important role in the transmission of West Nile Virus. Rainfall can create an optimal habitat for mosquitoes, including those that transmit WNV. Additionally, rising temperatures can speed up larval hatch-offs, allowing mosquito numbers to multiply quickly.

With the start of the football season just over a month away, the Southeastern Lions were picked third in the Southland Conference preseason poll that was released on SLC Media Day on Monday. Head Coach Frank Scelfo, who enters his eighth season in Hammond, returns 16 starters and 49 lettermen from a squad that went 7-5 in 2024, including a 6-1 mark in conference play, good enough for second place.

SLU's lone loss (a 36-33 barn burner) came to an Incarnate Word squad that captured the crown and reached the national quarterfinals, eventually finishing the season ranked #10 in the FCS final poll. The Cardinals claimed the top spot in the Southland preseason poll, totaling 158 points and 15 first place votes.

Stephen F. Austin was tabbed second with 137 points and 3 first-place votes. Southeastern was one point and two votes behind with 136 and 1.

Lamar, who is the only other team to receive a first-place bid, was picked fourth, followed by Nicholls and McNeese. East Texas A&M and Houston Christian finished in a tie for seventh. Northwestern State was picked ninth, and first-year program Texas-Rio Grande Valley was picked last in the 10-team league.

The Lions report to campus on Monday, with practices beginning on Tuesday. The regular season kicks off on August 29 in Ruston against Louisiana Tech, followed by a road trip to the land of Bluegrass for a battle with Murray State. The home opener is slated for September 13, when Mississippi Valley State pays a visit for Southeastern's Hall of Fame game.

The final pre-conference tune up happens about 30 miles to our west, when the Lions take on the Tigers (OH MY!). Southland play starts the next week when UTRGV makes their first trip to Strawberry Stadium.

The first varsity sport to start play is the Lady Lion soccer team, who just added three new players. Coach

Nathan Gillespie welcomes in a trio of players that includes midfielder Brooke Opferman, who transfers in after two years at Cleveland State; Kaitlyn Tung, another midfielder who will don the green & white after a pair of seasons at UMASS-Lowell; and Loegan Alia, a forward who played two JuCo seasons at Arizona Western College.

The newcomers will join their new teammates on August 4 for an exhibition match at Pearl River Community College and a home scrimmage with UL-Lafayette on August 9 at Strawberry Stadium. The season starts for real on the 14th at UL-Monroe.

While the Soccer Team welcomes three new players, the Lady Lion softball team sees two familiar faces come back to Hammond to close out their careers.

Coach Rick Fremin has guided his team to back-to-back Southland Tournament crowns and bids to the NCAA Tournament. Two contributing players return to Hammond in hopes of helping Southeastern get the hat trick.

Pitcher Cera Blanchard and outfielder Ka'Lyn Watson helped SLU make their first regional appearance before leaving for The University of Texas at Tyler, where the duo helped the Patriots compile a 62-5 record and capture a second consecutive NCAA Division II national title. In the 2025 season, both were named All-Conference, All-Region and D-II All-Americans.

The year before, each were key contributors to a Lady Lion team who won 47 games, their first SLC Tournament and a 2-2 record in the Tuscaloosa Regional. Southeastern has an 8-game fall exhibition season schedule, starting on September 26 when Pensacola State comes to town. The regular season starts in February.

Discover Louisiana Irises at the Ponchatoula Library

By STEFANIE BROOKE

Tangi Times Community Journalist

If your yard could use a splash of color — or if you're curious about the secret life of our native wetlands — mark your calendar for Louisiana Irises, an upcoming talk hosted by the Ponchatoula Library Garden Club on August 1 at 4pm at the Ponchatoula Library.

The event's featured speaker is Gary Salathe, founder and president of the Louisiana Iris Conservation Initiative (LICI). If you're not familiar with LICI, they're the folks who spend their weekends knee-deep in swamp mud, rescuing and restoring our native irises before they vanish from the wild. Through hands-on planting projects, partnerships with landowners, and good old-fashioned community sweat, LICI works to preserve these iconic Louisiana flowers so future generations can keep spotting them blooming in our swamps and bayous.

At the library, Gary will cover everything you need to know about growing Louisiana irises in your own garden — whether you're a green-thumbed veteran or someone who's still figuring out which end of the trowel goes in the dirt. He'll share tips for soil, sun, and seasonal care, plus he'll dive into the unique challenges of "extreme gardening" in wild wetlands and how everyday gardeners can play a part in native plant restoration.

If you've ever seen a stand of wild irises glowing purple and gold in a cypress swamp and thought, I wish I could bring that magic home, this is your chance to learn how — and to find out how protecting these beauties helps support Louisiana's natural habitats.

The program is free, open to the public, and a great excuse to come swap gardening stories with neighbors. You might even leave with a few new ideas — or a fresh appreciation for the folks quietly saving wild irises one patch of swamp at a time.

For more on LICI's restoration work or to see some downright stunning iris photos, visit www.lisaveil-rises.com.
